Why study in Queensland?

University pathways

Some of our schools are affiliated directly with prestigious tertiary options such as the University of Queensland, Queensland University of Technology and Griffith University.

Safety and student support

Did you know our government high schools provide dedicated professional staff to nurture and guide international students toward career success in addition to personal development?

International Baccalaureate

Maybe your high achieving child is an ideal candidate for one of the three Queensland Academies selective-entry high schools?

Once accepted from Year 10, students participate in the International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme – a globally recognised pre-university qualification that prepares students not only for university but life beyond the classroom.

Welcoming culture

Imagine your child connecting with international and local Australian students with many becoming friends-for-life.

They will also have plenty of opportunities to enjoy a taste of home as many Queenslanders applaud the vibrant Iranian festivals, the delicious restaurants and groceries available in specialty shops and supermarkets.

Iranian culture is celebrated and welcomed in Queensland with a significant Iranian community already established.

Where is Queensland?

Queensland is a very large place—it is the second-largest state in Australia. It has 1.7 million square kilometres and there is so much to see and experience.

It has cities, bush country, beaches, reef and rainforests. It is warm most of the year and almost never has snow! It is known for lots of outdoor activities, like sports and swimming, and is a great place to study, relax and play.

Why study with EQI?

At our 100 Queensland government schools, we offer a healthy life-balance with academic excellence and an affordable world class education.

Some of our government schools are affiliated directly with prestigious tertiary options such as the University of Queensland, Queensland University of Technology and Griffith University.

Is your high-achieving child an ideal candidate for one of the three Queensland Academies -our selective-entry high schools? Once accepted from Year 10, students participate in the International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme – a globally recognised pre-university qualification that prepares students not only for university but real life beyond the classroom.

Imagine your child connecting with international and local Aussie students with many becoming friends-for-life. Maybe a Homestay experience would be ideal where a safe and encouraging home environment is available while sharing the life of an Australian family. Of course, they too will encourage and value your child's contribution in expressing their own family stories and cultural beliefs.

Did you know our government high schools provide dedicated professional staff to nurture and guide international students toward career success in addition to personal development?

After successfully graduating Year 12 with the globally recognised Queensland Certificate of Education, your child has the world at their feet and ready to apply for university.
